

Ken Brown – Manager System Management, Western Power

Ken has worked in the power utility sector for 35 years, and has been system operator for WA for the last 15 years. His current position is as General Manager System Management in the new Western Power Networks Business, following dis-aggregation of the old vertically integrated utility in March 30 2006.

He has been a member of CIGRE(International Council on Large Electric Systems) since 1993 and Chairman of Australian Panel C2 Power System Operations and Control (CIGRE) since 2001.He has been and on a number of Committees that have been established to set up the new Wholesale Electricity Market for Western Australia which is due to start July 2006