Subject: RE: Proposed Bulletin Board - Consultation Paper

Dear John,

WorleyParsons Asset Management Pty Ltd (WAM) wish to comment on the Ministerial Council on Energy's recommendation for establishing a national gas market Bulletin Board, currently delegated to the Gas Market Leaders Group (GMLG). It is believed the establishment of the Bulletin Board (BB) is to collect and publish information on all major natural gas transmission pipelines in Australia.

Section 3 of the Bulletin Board Working Group's Consultation Paper indicated that all major pipelines should be in the BB information, inferring to include uncovered pipelines such as WAM's Kambalda to Esperance Gas Pipeline (KEGP), but suggested possible exemptions based on the following criteria:

- A pipeline or facility with a capacity of less than 20 TJ/day;
- Dedicated laterals and spurs;
- Gathering lines.

As a general comment, WAM wish to highlight that we concur with the above exemption proposals as the KEGP is a comparatively low capacity lateral, primarily intended for gas supply to the Power Station located at Esperance Port.

If you or your officers would like to discuss further on the issues raised, please feel free to contact me.

We look forward to being kept informed / consulted on GMLG's future proceedings and recommendations.
Thanks.

Regards

Lawrence Teo
